Sports on the Pacific Coast

Surely there is no centre in the world where one can get such a variety of summer sports as in Vancouver, B.C. There are several excellent golf courses, tennis being half a dozen different lots, public tennis-courts within the city limits, and the best facilities for baseball and lacrosse, a polo-ground out at Brighouse Park where recently teams from Kamloops and Calgary. Saturday afternoons nearly always find a good polo match being played at the beautiful grounds out at Brighouse.

But the most popular of all amusements in Vancouver are motor launches. Last summer, the first boat down by the Vancouver club, decked with pleasure boats of every size and description, was the "Kittiwake," the little row-boat with an outboard motor fixed inside it right up the front, which was built originally for a submarine chaser.

After the "Kittiwake" turned out for the regattas held at various points along the coast. There are 12 "Kittiwakes" now, and the latest class, the "Sea Tom," and the "Spirit" of the "W" class, the "Minerva."

Disarmament and the Individual Citizen

The outstanding question in world politics today is disarmament—the reaching of some international understanding which will put an end to the feverish race between nations to outdo each other in the raising and equipping of enormous armies, the construction of great navies, the inauguration of powerful aerial squadrons, and the development of chemicals and the sciences along channels of destruction, and with a cessation of such unholy and unprofitable competition, the lessening of the burden of taxation and the diversion of national revenues to the improvement of the physical and educational well-being of the peoples.

Everybody is concerned in the consummation of such an international understanding, but the average man and woman nevertheless looks upon the problem of arriving at an agreement as being the sole business of the responsible statesmen of the world, and, therefore, for the time being in authority in their respective countries. The average man and woman takes only an academic interest in this outstanding question, and proceeds daily to think, speak and act in a manner which operates to make the realization of world disarmament even more remote.

With the exception of Russia, all the nations of Europe, the three powers of Russia, the smash-up of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, and the breaking-up of the old Turkish Empire, the last remaining strongholds of old world militarism and autocracy came to an end. With the exception of Russia, which is still undergoing the birth pangs of its new regeneration, the leading nations of the world are now under a democratic government, and it is the people who are the leaders, the workers and the rulers of their own national fate. They, and they alone, can definitely and permanently decide upon national policy. Governments are the creatures of the people, and are controlled, made and un-made by the votes of the people. To an ever increasing degree, too, the women have an equal voice in the men to determine the fate of Government, and the political policies of the nation.

If the people once make up their minds that they shall be disarmed, that they will no longer pour out their hard won earnings to be used to supply machines of war wherever to destroy their fellowmen, Governments will, because they must, obey.

There is, however, it must be admitted, a fighting instinct inherent in the human race. It cannot be wholly eradicated, and it is well to bear in mind that this instinct which leads the race to push ever onward and overcome seemingly insurmountable obstacles. It is the fighting instinct which makes for progress. But the time is long since past when that instinct should so be perverted as to result in a striving for mastery of others through the brutal animal method of destruction—the slaughter.

After all, what is one of the most fruitful sources of national group of people against another? Is it not to be found in the pin-pricking policy which so many people thoughtlessly indulge in at the expense of the people of another race, color or creed? The people of one nation may be arrogant and the halibut of another may be modest, but a feeling of animosity and ill-will is engendered whereas a mutual recognition of each other's good qualities, which is just as easy of cultivation, would quickly develop a feeling of admiration.

The newspaperman in a country quickly reflects the views and feelings of the people with whom he comes in contact. If there is a pin-pricking policy among the people it is not long before the press is engaged in it, and these sharp sayings of the press in one land are quickly seized upon by the press in another country, and soon a world warfare is on stirring up the passions and prejudices of one nation and people against another, and forever cultivating strife by raking up all the old quarrels and tiffs of history between the two.

Visitors from other lands often come with a desire to resent and humorously remark about their country, flag or people, and they return home containing anything but cordial thoughts towards the country in which such remarks are uttered. Thus, from comparatively trivial cause, there arise those national misconceptions and distrusts of other people which, when once differentiated, can occur between two entire nations, and if continued, it is only a matter of time and a condition of political opinion created which makes it extremely difficult, if not impossible, for the Governments of the opposing countries to make necessary compromises in order to reach a amicable settlement. And it is against just such contingencies that armaments are maintained.

The ordinary citizen can, therefore, do much to bring about world disarmament by merely keeping a close watch upon his tongue and by steadfastly refusing to indulge in, what is after all more or less senseless and certainly utterly futile, carping at and criticism of other nations, races and peoples.

What He Said.

The Sunday School teacher was talking to her class about Solomon and his wisdom.

"When the Queen of Sheba came and heard of the wisdom and reign before Solomon, what did he say?" she asked presently.

One small girl, who evidently had experience in such matters, replied promptly: "Oh much d'yer want for the lot?"—London Evening News.

Skilled In Disarmament.

Marshal Foch, it is now suggested, may come to the United States as military adviser to the French delegation at the disarmament conference.

Madame Solon, what did he say?

He is known how to disarm a nation—Providence Journal.

Ninety per cent. of the world's total output of real lavender oil comes from the vicinity of Lyons, France.

Good Low Cost Meals

BY LORETTA C. LYNCH
An Acknowledged Expert in All Matters Pertaining to Household Management

"We are two women past thirty. With the general downward trend of prices, we find our salaries reduced. We have decided to quit our some-time business and open a restaurant, and rent a few housekeeping rooms. The 'What to Eat' problem bothers us. I might say we will be able to get home at noon to luncheon, for we are engaged in running the place to the office. Will you be good enough to outline inexpensive, nourishing meals for several days?"

A fireside cooker is a wonderful help to those working women. A simple meal can be cooked in a minute. Completely plan a week's meals on paper. Then from the list do as much shopping for staples and semi-perishables, like butter and eggs, as possible, on one trip.

If you are a good baker in your spare time, then you will have pie as well as your bread if time and energy are at a premium.

The suggestions offered are low in cost, rather easily prepared and fill all the requirements of average diets.

Creston B. C. News

Wynndell boys played the local team Sunday. The boys turned up a lively game in the start, taking four runs in the first but went down to defeat in the last part of the game.

The Creston Hotel has been taken over on a long lease by Mr. Small an experienced hotel man.

It is being renovated and cleaned up so the travellers passing this way will find an up to date place in the future and financial success will be sure to crown his efforts in keeping a place of this kind.

Cranbrook ball team is scheduled to play a "double header" here with our team the first game is called for 5 p.m. Saturday and will play one Sunday morning. As the visiting team had won a few laurels lately, our boys expect to have to step lively to even get a look in at the game.

The weather continues dry and haying is in full swing on the flats.

The Fruit Growers' Union had loaded their third car of apples this season. The early ones are about all in and another week will see the fall crop beginning to move. They are well matured and a much better grade than last year.

Geo. Beaga who was injured by the falling of a tree in the recent timber fire at Kitchener is back from the hospital but will be some time before he is the same boy again.

Mrs. E. Brown and daughter-in-law of Kitchener were business visitors in town last week.

M. Frank Sutton of Retlaw, Alta. is a visitor in our city the guest of Mr. J.P. Peairs and family.

Bow Island

M. Fossom of Medicine Hat was visiting in Bow Island at Mr. and Mrs. Peairs on Monday last.

Mr. Roy S. Beattie returned from Lethbridge on Wednesday, where he was for a week.

Mr. Minnis from Calgary was a business caller in town on Wednesday.

C.P.R. President Talks on Thrift to Boy Scouts

Thrife is a word which is said to have come into the English language over a thousand years ago from the Saxon word "thrifan" which means "to strive" which "thrive" is the verb, and suggests that success and saving go together. It is a good word to look at. It is an upstanding word and at once makes us think of the kind of quality which one associates with a Boy Scout. How different it appears from "greed" or "TRAVAGANCE", a word which at once suggests an extravagant, irresponsible, wasteful, and foolish person who wastes.

Service to Community.

Now "thrift" means saving money and miserliness means saving money; they are not the same kind of word, though a thrifty person saves money for a purpose, the miser saves as to himself. The miser saves as to himself against bad times. His thrift is careful not to carry his thrift to the extreme of saving everything adding to what he already has got, and also performing a service to others.

By letting the other person have the use of the money while it is not spent, the thrifty person does a service to a community for which the community is willing to pay him.

The Scout, however, has just as little use for the miser as for the spender, as for the "thrifty" in "Scouting," Reginald.

The Bow Island Review hopes that the Boy Scouts of Bow Island (and the other Towns supplied by the Review) may be recruited at an early date into an intensely strong and live body of Scouts for the following good and splendid reasons:

The aims of the Scout movement are as follows:

1 Character and intelligence

2 Health and strength

3 Skill and handcraft

4 Services for others

5 Scout is courteous

6 Scout is a friend to animals

7 Scout obeys orders of his parents, Patrol Leader or Scout Master, without question

8 Scout smiles and whistles under all difficulties

9 Scout is thrifty

10 A Scout is clean in thought, word and deed.

The Scout Obligation

"On my honor I promise to do my best:

To do my duty to God and to King;
To help other people at all times
To obey the Scout Law

The Scout Law

1 A Scout honors his father and mother.

2 A Scout is loyal to God and the King, his country and his employers or employees.

3 A Scout obeys orders of his parents, Patrol Leader or Scout Master, without question.

4 A Scout is a friend to all, and a brother to every other Scout.
